* Over the years, we've flip-flopped computer servers a few times. Consequently, the images imbedded in these newsletters are not showing up and some of the symbols look a little funky. It's a bummer, but at least the imbedded links work. (There is always something to be grateful for.)

 As we launched P&C with a different email marketing system, at the moment we do not have links for these newsletters. We're working to figure out a solution, however.
